

Preparing for Back to School Success

What:

The Center for Autism will discuss planning for back to school success during the COVID-19 pandemic. Caregivers will learn about ways to help children thrive despite uncertainties. Families will take home strategies that they can use to engage their children who are home learning virtually, or on modified school schedules.

When:

October 12, 2020, 10:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m.
